Our Mission

The mission of the ABPP Foundation is to serve the public interest through the promotion of competent specialty practice and specialty board certification, the provision of educational opportunities in the form of scholarships and continuing professional development, as well as assistance to training programs, and provision of continuing professional development. The Foundation supports educational programs to promote the importance of psychology board certification to non-certified psychologists, the general public, and related professions, including but not limited to law, medicine, nursing, and education. To achieve this goal, the mission of the Foundation includes raising funds. No earmarked funds can be used for any purposes other than those for which they have been designated.

Remember the ABPP Foundation in your estate planning

An important means for ensuring that our work continues is through your making a bequest to ABPP in your will. These funds can be designated for a named fund, for a fund to be established later, or contributed to the General Fund.

The Foundation provides opportunities for training, access, and education for psychologists and promotes public awareness of the importance of specialty Board Certification in professional psychology. Your donation is much needed, whether you make a one-time or a continuing contribution. Your generosity is appreciated.

We invite you to make a single contribution, an annual commitment, or a multi-year pledge to the endowment development campaign.

Examples of designated single gifts:

- Provide support for a candidate from an underrepresented minority group to become-board certified in a specialty of your choice
- Contribute to our existing named awards or work with the ABPP Foundation to develop another named award

How to contribute a tax-deductible donation

- Checks may be made payable to The ABPP Foundation and sent to
